Two Tigers

Once in an Indian jungle there were two tiger cubs called Tom and Stripes. Their mum had been shot by a poacher and now they were on their own. One day Stripes peered down from their tree and saw a long line of construction vehicles driving through the jungle. When the last tree cutter had passed they jumped down and followed them to a place where there was just sand because all the trees had been cut down to make a factory. They knew they had to find some animals to help them get rid of the trucks.

Two weeks later they returned to the place with some new friends and a plan. Tom said "GO!" and all the animals ran to do their part. First mice chewed the wires inside the trucks. Then the tigers scared all the humans away. Elephants came and squashed the cabs of the trucks and monkeys threw stones and ripped off the windscreen wipers. The workers were so scared that they didn't want to come back. The animals stayed to protect the jungle as it grew back. Stripes and Tom lived with their new friends and were not lonely any more.

The Mermaid under the Sea

Once upon a time there lived a mermaid called Ilasier. She lived in a coral sea house and she went for a walk in the coral forest. The coral forest is very colourful.

Suddenly a ginormous lobster scared Ilasier. He has big sharp scary claws and he nipped the mermaid!

Ilasier swam as fast as she could and suddenly the giant lobster nipped her again. And she felt sad.

Oscar the octopus came to help Ilasier. Oscar was a very brave octopus. He squirted his black sticky ink at the lobster. The lobster was stuck to the ground because the ink was super strong and sticky.

The mermaid camouflaged herself to stop the lobster from seeing where she went. She swam as fast as a motorbike and made it home. Oscar the octopus was waiting for her.

The Snowy Christmas

One cold winter's night Santa was in his sleigh flying around the world and dropping off presents for boys and girls. "Ho, ho, ho" said Santa. As Santa was flying over the ocean one of his best reindeer, called Snowy, fell out of the sky and landed on a beach.

Snowy was very surprised because she had never seen sand before. She was only used to white snow. "Where am I?" said Snowy. The next minute a little crab appeared from behind a bush and said "you're on a desert island." Snowy was scared and told the crab that she needed to find Santa and help deliver the toys for Christmas.

The crab had a good idea and started playing 'Jingle Shells' with its claws to get Santa's attention. They hoped Santa could hear the song and then rescue Snowy. At that moment Santa was flying close by and could hear and see Snowy and a little crab on the island. He rushed down to help Snowy and Snowy said a big thank you to the crab for helping her. Every year on Christmas Eve Santa flew over the desert island so that Snowy could wish her new friend a Happy Christmas.
